DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The cancellation of claims 1-10, 20-39 and 49 are acknowledged. The RCE is acknowledged.

The prior rejection is withdrawn. A new ground of rejection is presented below.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 11-19, 40-48, and 50-53 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 70-78, 81, and 108 of copending Application No. 09/935,462. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because Application '462 claims "an article", however, "an article" is construed as the instant application's "a third substrate".

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Art Unit: 1774

Claims 1-19, 40-48, and 50-53 are directed to an invention not patentably distinct from claims 70-78 and 108 of commonly assigned Application No. 09/935,462. Specifically, Application '462 claims "an article", while the instant application claims "a third substrate".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 11-19, 40-48, and 50-53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent Application Publication 2003/0044576 A1 to Dhar et al.

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Dhar teaches a system comprising a first and second substrate and an article located between the first and second substrate having the same adherent between the substrates. See patented claims 71 and 81 teaching all the limitations to the flatness and waviness requirements and Strehl value. While Application '462 claims "an article", the article is a polarizer located between first and second substrate and functions as the instant Application's "a third substrate".

Application '462 teaches a diffraction or relief pattern on the first substrate, it functions as having an "optically reflective" first surface (instant claim 40). See patented claims 70-81 to teaching the materials and structure of claims 11-19, 40-48, and 50-53. See [0079] to teaching the adherent capable of holographic data storage when the adherent used is a photopolymer material. While the preamble of claim 40 is to a multilayer reflective holographic storage system, the same layers, materials, and values are taught and thus a different naming of the essential elements do not make the product different.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

References of Interest

The remaining references listed on form(s) 892 and/or 1449 have been reviewed by the examiner and are considered to be cumulative to or less material than the prior art references relied upon in the rejection above.
